MANAGEMENT OF CIVIL CASES WHILE SLO ADMIN ORDER (AO) 20-01 IS IN PLACE

All Civil matters:

Paragraph number two of the Court's Administrative Order applies to all civil matters, including unlawful detainers.

Attention all parties with pending Civil Law and Motion matters:

The court has vacated all hearing dates for Civil and Probate matters scheduled between March 17, 2020, and April 2, 2020. (SLO AO 20-01 filed March 16, 2020.) If you had a civil law and motion hearing pending on one of those dates, the court strongly recommends that you file your responsive briefs under the statutory time frames calculated on the original hearing date, even though it has been vacated. While not mandatory, doing so will help to facilitate the prompt resolution of the motion once court operations resume and a new hearing date is assigned. If you resolve the motion, please inform the court as soon as possible. The Court is continuing to work up these motions during the closure.

Special note to those with pending Probate matters:

If you had a probate matter pending on one of those dates, consult the probate notes posted for the date the matter was originally set to be heard. The court intends to clear as many cases without appearance as soon as operations are continued. Clearing your notes will increase your chances of speedy resolution.
